Announcements / Upcoming Events

Helmholtz BLOGS

In the Helmholtz Blogs researchers from the Helmholtz centers and the employees in the communications departments are blogging. The blog portal consists of several, thematically focused sub-blogs, where the authors write in German and English about their research missions, expeditions and research projects. There are also sub-blogs related to meta-issues such as youth and science communication. If you would like to be a blogger too, you can write to info@blogs.helmholtz.de.

WAI Global Summit

Women in AI Summit 2020 will be held online on September 8, 2020 and will include webinars of several topics in AI with back to back sessions by different countries. There will be 50 keynotes, panels, and workshops by leading global AI experts, covering topics in Health, FinTech, Ethics, Business, Education, Culture, and more.
