Upcoming Events

HIDA Trainee Network

The HIDA Trainee Network is a new exchange programme for all doctoral and post-doctoral students (trainees) who work at a Helmholtz Centre and whose research work has a strong connection to information or data sciences. It enables one to three month research stays at another Helmholtz Centre, financed by HIDA. The first application round is scheduled to start in Q1 2020. The exchange can take place from summer 2020.

Geo.X Annual Meeting

If you want to learn more about Geosciences in Berlin and Potsdam and to network with colleagues across all institutes, the Geo.X Annual Meeting 2020 will take place on Monday 10th February in Henry-Ford-Building of Freie Universität Berlin. Program and Registration: <https://www.geo-x.net/annual-meeting-2020/>

ORION MOOC for Open Science in the Life Sciences 2.0

The ORION Open Science project is going to run an improved version of their highly successful and positively reviewed online course from last year. This is a live course for life sciences and biomedical researchers that will start on 10th February 2020. You can enroll here: <http://tiny.cc/ORIONMOOC2>

Useful Tip!

As a PhD student, you may be working at one of our Helmholtz partners, while being registered at one of the partner universities. To be able to include a publication in your cumulative thesis, your author's affiliation must include your university affiliation, in addition to the Helmholtz Centre one.
